Numb. 340.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From June 5. to June 12. 1735.

LONDON, Feb. 1.

ON Thurſday Night died at his Houſe in Hanover-Square, the Right Hon. George Granville Lord Lanſdown, in the County of Devon, ſo created 31 Dec. 1711, in the 10th of Queen Anne.

His Lordſhip's Family is extreamly antient, being deſcended from Rollo, a Nobleman of Denmark, who came into France 876, and compell'd Charles, firnam'd the Simple, to make him Duke of Normandy, and afterwards to give him his Daughter in Marriage.

The Son of this Duke was Father to Emma, King Ethelred's Queen, who was Mother to Edward the Confeſſor: He was alſo Great Grandfather to William the Conqueror, and his younger Brother Robert Earl of Crobile having Poſterity, Hamen the 6th Earl accompanied the Conqueror over to England, and from this Nobleman the late Lord Lanſdown was lineally deſcended.

His Lordſhip was Nephew to the firſt Earl of Bath, who was ſo created by King Charles II. and had the Title of Earl of Crobile, Thereigny and Granville, confirm'd to him by that Prince; the Preface to which Patent is as follows:

'Whereas it appears to us, that our right 'truſty, &c. John Earl of Bath, &c. derives 'his Title, in a direct Line, as Heir Male to 'Robert Fitz-Hamen, Lord of Glouceſter and 'Glamorgan, in the Reigns of King William 'the Conqueror, King William Rufus, and 'King Henry the I. and who was the Son and 'Heir of Hamen Dentatus, Earl of Crobile in 'Normandy, (which Titles were held before 'Normandy was loſt to the Crown of England) whereby he juſtly claims his Deſcent 'from the younger Son, as We Ourſelf do 'from the eldeſt, of Rollo Duke of Normandy.'

Lord Lanſdown was Secretary at War in the Reign of the late Queen; as alſo Comptroller of the Houſhold and Privy Counſellor: He was the 338 Earl of Crobile, &c. and had Pretenſion to an Earldom of the Empire in Right of his Couſin Charles, laſt Earl of Bath, who obtain'd the Honour of the Emperor for his Service in Hungary againſt the Turks. His Lordſhip married the Lady Mary Villiers, Aunt to the Earl of Jerſey, and Mother to Lord Viſcount Weymouth, and had by her four Daughters, one of whom is married to William Graham, Eſq; of the Kingdom of Ireland.

The following is a Tranſlation of a French Copy of Verſes, being the Subſtance of the King of Pruſſia's Advice to his Son the Prince Royal, during his late Illneſs.

The Rank we bear is generally envied:
But we muſt quit it, my Son, when we come (to die.
That vain Grandeur ought not to puff us up;
It is a Torrent we ſee roll away in a Moment.
We, who are here Lords and Maſters,
When Death has united us with our Anceſ- (tors,
We ſhall appear, my Son, with all our Faults,
And our meaneſt Subjects will then be our (Equals.
Of our famous Exploits we muſt give an (Account:
Our Glory perhaps will be our Shame.
To avoid, my Son, ſo cruel a Return,
Reign like a Sovereign that muſt die.
Honour Virtue, execute Juſtice,
Puniſh Villany, and Vice ſuppreſs:
Love your Subjects, that they may love (you,
And let it be your Glory to make your Peo- (ple happy.

Feb. 8. On Tueſday laſt their Majeſties received Advice from Holland, that his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Orange deſign'd to make another Campaign this Year in Germany, under Prince Eugene.

And that the Princeſs Royal intends to come over hither, and reſide at Court, during her Conſort's Abſence.

As ſoon as his Excellency Horace Walpole, Eſq; arriv'd, on Tueſday laſt, he waited on his Majeſty, and met with a moſt gracious cious Reception; having brought over with him a Plan for an Accommodation of the preſent Differences, among the ſeveral Powers at War; and an Aſſurance of their High Mightineſſes acting in Concert with his Britannick Majeſty.

Monday ſe'nnight died at his Seat at Santry, three Miles from Dublin, the Right Hon. Henry Barry, Baron of Santry in the County of Dublin; ſo created Feb. 8. 1661, the 13th of Charles II. His Lordſhip was one of his Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy Council for Ireland, and Governor of Londonderry and Culmore Fort. He marry'd Bridget, Daughter to Sir Thomas Domvile, of the City of Dublin, Bart. His Deſcendant is now Baron of Santry, he ſucceeding his Father in Honour and Eſtate.

We hear Proviſion will be made this Seſſion of Parliament more effectually to prevent the clandeſtine Exportation of Wooll, ſo detrimental to the Woollen Manufactury of Great Britain, in which many Thouſands of our Poor are employ'd, and which, if not timely prevented, will in a ſhort Time reduce many hundred Families to Miſery and Want.

We have Advices from Vienna, that the Emperor has communicated to ſeveral Foreign Powers, the new Informations he has received of the Projects formed againſt him by his Enemies; and that thoſe Projects have a near Relation to the Attempts to be made by the Turk. The Britiſh and Dutch Miniſters have more frequent Conferences than heretofore, with the Imperial Miniſtry, and it is ſaid, that the Subject of them is a new Plan of a general Pacification, concerted by the Maritime Powers.

We hear that by the Scheme publiſh'd for promoting the Trade of our Woollen Manufactures, a legal Method is fix'd for our taking off a good Part of the Iriſh Wool at the common Price, and likewiſe to ſettle and encourage a Woolen Manufacture in Ireland, to prevent the French Nation engroſſing it, which 'tis obſerv'd they have for many Years laſt paſt, near one half Part of which, if they were depriv'd of that Branch of Trade, would return to its former Channel.

Feb. 10. Letters from Barbary mention, that the Competition between the two Brothers for the Empire of Morocco was juſt ripe for Action, but that there had been as yet no Engagement. Muley Abdallah, who was lately depos'd by the Black Army, has thrown himſelf upon his White Subjects, and has got together a great Number of them at Morocco; Muley Aly who was ſet up by the Blacks, is at Mequinez, preparing to decide the Matter with his Brother. They add, that the Animoſities between the Moors are at ſuch a Height, that whether the Blacks or Whites prevail, they are determin'd to extripate the Party of the oppoſite Complection, Men, Women and Children.

We hear, that ſeveral French Taylors and others, are very buſy in procuring great Quantities of Gold and Silver Lace from France, againſt the Queen's Birth-Day, notwithſtanding its Prohibition, and the Penalty of 100l. for every Offence: Upon which the Manufacturers of that Commodity have applied to the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms; and ſtrict Orders are given to the Officers, to uſe their beſt Endeavours to prevent ſuch clandeſtine Practices.

Vienna, Feb. 9. The Court has received Advice from Belgrade, that ſeveral Detachments of Turkiſh Horſe make frequent Irruptions into Servia, and even within the Precincts of the Town of Temeſwaer; and that they have lately committed ſuch Hoſtilities as ſeem to have been expreſly done by Order from the Ottoman Court.

Count Wallis has ſent a conſiderable Part of his Army into the Territories of Bologna, and Ferrara, to take their Subſiſtance there, and ſave the Trouble of tranſporting Proviſions to the Mantuan. The Poſt which the Germans have at Final, incommodes the Allies in the Modeneſe extreamly; and 'tis aſſur'd, that the firſt Attempts of the French will be to drive them thence. Count Wallis's Army is at preſent 55,000 Men ſtrong, but 'tis ſaid, will be ſpeedily augmented to 70,000. This Augmentation however will have its Difficulties, if it be true as reported, that the Officers are oblig'd to ſend their Recruits from the Empire ty'd down in Waggons, as the ſole Expedient to prevent their Deſertion.

Don Carlos is haſtening with large Strides to Sicily, upon Information ſaid to be given him, that the Garriſon of Meſſina, the Conqueſt of which he is to take the Honour of, is ſo reduced by the Length of the Siege, that 'tis apprehended they will ſurrender before he can reach them, and deprive him of all his Glory. 'Tis aſſur'd that the Prince of Lobcowitz, the Governor, has declar'd, he will hold out to the laſt Grain of Powder in the Place, and then ſubmit. Should this happen before Don Carlos's Arrival, his long and expenſive Journey would be to no Purpoſe. His Royal Highneſs has ſent to the Pope and Republick of Genoa, to deſire they will ſell him their Galleys at any Price.

They write from Germany, that the Imperial Army will be much more numerous this Campaign than the laſt: Prince Eugene was expected to take the Command about the Middle of March. The Line which the Germans are forming to cover the Cities of Mentz and Heidelberg, will be defended by 20,000 Imperialiſts, and the auxilliary Troops of Pruſſia, Denmark, Hanover and Heſſe-Caſſel. This Line will take in a Space of Forty Miles, and entirely cover Wetteravia, alſo Frankfort, and ſeveral other conſiderable Places.

A Body of 12000 Saxons is returning out of Poland to join the Imperial Army on the Rhine; but 'tis fear'd they will have Employment nearer home. The Journey of Baron Grumb-

Grumbkaw from the Court of Berlin to Koningsberg, furniſhes much Speculation: Nay, 'tis reported that his Pruſſian Majeſty purpoſes to make a Tour thither himſelf, as ſoon as his Health will permit.

Letters from Conſtantinople intimate, that the Earl of Kinoul, his Britannick Majeſty's Ambaſſador there, is in great Confidence with the Vizir; and, in Conjunction with the Dutch Ambaſſador, is uſually conſulted upon any Incident relating to the Affairs of Europe. The French Ambaſſador has a very conſiderable Party in the Divan, but is no Favourite of the Miniſter's. Theſe Letters add, that the Vizir having a little Time ago ſent for the Ruſſian Miniſters, complain'd to them, that the Czarina, by the good Intelligence ſhe entertain'd with the Perſian General, gave Suſpicion of her ſpiriting him up to continue the War; and that in caſe it ſhould prove ſo, he could not anſwer for the Conſequence: To which their Excellencies anſwer'd, that if her Czarian Majeſty's Friendſhip with Perſia could give Umbrage to the Grand Seignior, ſhe ought to take Exception at the Union and Intimacy which the Port cheriſhes with a certain Power; but that as her Majeſty would give no Occaſion for Suſpicion on her Side, ſo ſhe ſhould take none without very manifeſt Reaſons.

Feb. 15. Yeſterday a great Diſturbance happened amongſt the Footmen at Weſtminſter-Hall on the following Occaſion; it is cuſtomary at the firſt meeting of a new Parliament, for the Footmen to chuſe (what they call) a Speaker amongſt themſelves; and Yeſterday a Diſpute aroſe between the Court and Country, the latter alledging, that the Election was unfair, there not being a full Aſſembly; however, the former ſtood by their Choice, and brought out their Candidate in a Chair, with the Mace before him, and proceeded through Weſtminſter-Hall; in the mean Time the others made a freſh Election, and carried their Candidate in State, preceded likewiſe by a Mace, and they met in the Court of Requeſts, where began ſuch an Engagement as has not been known on the like Occaſion, there were ſeveral Heads broke, and ſome ſo dangerouſly wounded, that their Lives are in Danger: The Battle began about Two, and it was near Four before the Tumult was appeas'd.

Feb. 25. Laſt Sunday about Eleven o'Clock, the Peace Officers going their Rounds to the Publick Houſes, to prevent diſorderly Smoaking and Tippling in Time of Divine Service, diſcovered a private Maſs-Houſe at a little Alehouſe the Back of Shoreditch, where near an hundred People were got together in a Garret, moſt of them miſerable, and poor and ragged, and upon Examination appeared to be Iriſh; ſome few were well dreſſed: ſeveral Maſs Books were found with them. The Prieſt made his Eſcape out of a Back Door, clamber'd over ſome Pales, and got thro' a Houſe at ſome Diſtance, leaving the reſt to ſhift for themſelves: Whereupon ſome got out of a Trap-Door backwards, and others, after giving an Account of their Names and Places of Abode, were let quietly depart. Notwithſtanding this, a great many met on Sunday Evening, and Yeſterday, at the ſame Place, declaring that Maſs ſhould be ſaid there in ſpight of all Oppoſition.

March 1. On Monday Night was held a Quarterly Communication of the moſt ancient and honourable Society of Free and Accepted Maſons, at the Devil Tavern, Temple-Bar; moſt of the Grand Officers, and upwards of Three Hundred Maſters and Wardens of Lodges, properly cloath'd were preſent; particularly, the Right Hon. the Earl of Crawford, Grand Maſter; Sir Cecil Wray, Bart. Deputy Grand Maſter; Sir Edward Manſell, Bart. and John Ward, Eſq; Grand Wardens. His Grace the Duke of Richmond, his Grace the Duke of Buccleugh, the Right Hon. the Lord Balcarras, Dr. Deſaguliers, and ſeveral other Perſons of the firſt Quality and Diſtinction. A handſome Sum was diſpos'd of towards the Relief of ſeveral poor Brethren. They unanimouſly choſe the Right Hon. the Lord Viſcount Weymouth, Grand Maſter for the Year enſuing: Sir Cecil Wray, Bart. and Sir Edward Manſell, Bart. Grand Wardens: After which a moſt elegant Oration, in Praiſe of Maſonry, was pronounced by --- Bowman, Eſq; which received the univerſal Approbation of that Antient and Honourable Fraternity.

Laſt Saturday ſe'nnight died of a Hurt he receiv'd a few Days before by a Fall from his Horſe, Mr. Humphry Smith, an eminent Quaker and Haberdaſher of Small Wares in the City of Briſtol, reputed worth upwards of 20,000 l.

The Scotch Petition is rejected.

We hear the Attainder of the late Earl of Seaforth, who was concern'd in the laſt Rebellion, will be taken off.

'Tis aſſur'd from good Hands, that the Court of France begins to be tired of the War, and is in no Capacity to carry on another Campaign without great Inconvenience.

On Wedneſday laſt an unhappy Accident happened at South-Halſted, about ten Miles from Colcheſter, viz. a Perſon belonging to that Town, who had been confined for ſome Time paſt as a Lunatick, found Means to make his Eſcape, and ſtrolling into the Market-Place, ſeiz'd a Soldier who belongs to a Party of Foot quartered there, from whom (being a Fellow of great Strength) he took his Muſket and Bayonet, and drawing the Bayonet, ſtabb'd another Soldier therewith under the Left Breaſt, of which Wound he expired in about two Minutes after. He alſo ſtabb'd another Soldier into the Thigh, but he is in a fair Way of Recovery. Hereupon the Serjeant commanded ſix Soldiers to fix their Bayonets on the End of their Pieces, in order to ſecure him, which they did, and after ſome Reſiſtance took him Priſoner, and carried him to Bridewell, where he is ſecured, to prevent his doing more Miſchief. The Deceaſed was about ſixty Years of Age, had been in the Army near forty Years, and in most of the Battles abroad in the late Wars; and his Loss is justly regretted by his Comrades.
